One hundred per cent of our proceeds are invested back into Ontario to support hospitals, libraries, community centres, charities, festivals, amateur sports and more.

WE’RE ALSO ALL FOR FUN – FOR ALL PLAYERS, ALL THE TIME.

That’s why we work hard to offer great games and destinations, and we try to build gambling education and positive play habits into the gaming experience of every player.

In this, our fourth Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) report, we share how OLG made Ontario a better place to live, work and play in the fiscal year April 1, 2015 to March 31, 2016.

Message from the Minister

Proceeds generated by OLG have benefited Ontarians since 1975. The revenue generated provides for more investments in Ontario's priorities and greater supports to communities and families across the province.

As its modernization progresses, OLG will continue to focus on Responsible Gambling and ensure its business is conducted in a responsible manner in the best interest of all Ontarians.

As a government agency, OLG must operate in a socially responsible way. This includes working with experts and leading researchers to prevent and mitigate the effects of problem gambling.

Charles Sousa
Minister of Finance
Message from the President and CEO

OLG’s mission is to generate revenue for the Province; stimulate and enhance economic development; and promote Responsible Gambling – all while operating in the best interests of the Province of Ontario.

We continue to provide the Ontario government with its largest source of non-tax revenue. In 2015–16, we delivered more than $2 billion in Net Profit to the government, which it used to invest in provincial priorities. Beyond that return to the Province, hundreds of millions more go on an annual basis to First Nations, the communities that host our land-based gaming sites, lottery retailers, the horse racing industry, and provincial and locally based charities and not-for-profits.

The revenue OLG generates and what we give back to the people and Province of Ontario underpin what we do today and will continue to guide what we do tomorrow. However, the contributions we make depend on OLG’s ability to remain a sustainable organization. The global gaming industry is rapidly changing and the pace of change presents significant challenges not just here in Ontario, but around the world.

Shifts in demographics and advances in technology mean that OLG needs to be more innovative and agile in order to adapt to changing customer preferences in an increasingly digital industry. We need to focus on knowing the customer – understanding how they want to experience gaming entertainment and the environment that they want to be in – guided by the fundamental principles of Responsible Gambling (RG) that underlie everything that we do.

Ontarians expect us to operate in a responsible manner and take steps to reduce gambling-related harm. Through our RG efforts we are fostering a healthy, sustainable player base through education, risk reduction and player assistance.

In 2015–16, we launched PlaySmart, an innovative and research-based gambling education and player support program. It is a new approach that broadens the focus of RG from assisting only those experiencing problems to helping all players make informed choices about our products.

The goal of PlaySmart is to promote positive play, assistance and referral options as part of customer service; provide the right information to the right players at the right time; and grow our business in a healthy way.

PlaySmart builds on our years of experience working with independent experts to develop and manage player programs based on leading research about what is most effective. It is one example of how OLG is collaborating with key stakeholders and partners to position us for growth and innovation.

“As our business model changes, our partnerships with the private sector will become increasingly integral to our success. However, as we change, our commitment to RG will remain strong.”

– STEPHEN RIGBY, PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
As our business model changes, our partnerships with the private sector will become increasingly integral to our success. However, as we change, our commitment to RG will remain strong. As new operators take over gaming sites, they will be required to adhere to the same rigorous RG standards and controls that are in place at OLG. Operators will be required to deliver RG training, which OLG has developed in collaboration with the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health.

Today, three out of four Ontarians believe that OLG does all it can to operate in a responsible manner. Our social responsibility activities are an important part of building on the trust they have in our organization. These include our efforts to reduce the impact our operations have on the environment. In 2015–16, we launched a Green Leadership Certificate program, developed in partnership with WWF-Canada. The program is designed to help our employees improve their understanding of environmental sustainability.

We are proud of our work in the area of social responsibility and we are pleased to share some of our results in our fourth Corporate Social Responsibility report.

 Direct employees are those employed directly by OLG. Indirect employees are those employed by OLG’s Resort Casinos and the Great Blue Heron Casino.
Strategic Challenges

OLG continually strives to generate greater and more sustainable financial benefits for Ontario. Here are two examples of the challenges we face and how we’re responding:

FUTURE OF GAMING IN ONTARIO
Advances in technology, changes to shopping patterns and demographics and declining visits from the U.S. have combined to challenge Ontario’s gaming industry and our contributions to the province. To keep pace with the shifts and sustain strong returns, we are in the midst of a multi-year modernization effort to become more efficient and innovative.

What modernization milestones were achieved in 2015–16? On January 11, 2016, we signed a 20-year casino operating and services agreement with Ontario Gaming East Limited Partnership (OGELP), a subsidiary of the Great Canadian Gaming Corporation. As of that date, OGELP took over day-to-day operations of the casino in the Thousand Islands as well as the slots facility at Kawartha Downs and was given the opportunity to build a new gaming and entertainment facility in Belleville. Procurement processes are underway to confirm service providers for other gaming sites across Ontario. In September 2016, a request for proposal (RFP) process for the Lottery business was cancelled in favour of a revised approach to unlocking the full potential of this business. The new approach will seek to enhance OLG’s own capabilities in technology and innovation through partnerships with the private sector.

How will OLG ensure that service providers maintain responsible practices? There are stringent requirements, detailed in the contracts, for new operators to maintain OLG’s strong commitment to social responsibility, including complying with applicable regulations set out by the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario and upholding the standards of our gambling education and support program. OLG maintains control and accountability for these sites, is the owner of key player information and distributes payments to communities that host gaming facilities.

PUBLIC PERCEPTIONS OF OLG AND GAMBLING
Among the issues affecting our business is the public perception, evidenced in our reputation surveys, that as a gaming corporation we focus mostly on making money and we need to do more to address problem gambling. Market research suggests that the stigma associated with gambling differs from judgements of alcohol or even marijuana, which is not yet legal in Canada.

Why should people trust OLG? Our business needs to build a long-term sustainable player base of healthy gamblers. That’s why we work to enable safe gambling habits amongst our players – in much the same way that designated drivers and other safe practices are an unquestioned part of accepted social norms for drinking at social occasions.

What programs are in place to deal with this issue? PlaySmart is Ontario’s most comprehensive gambling education and player support program, designed to help players build gambling knowledge, understand risks, gain insight into personal behaviour, plan their experience, build positive play habits, and know how to obtain help if needed.

We want people to notice and talk about PlaySmart, which applies to all games that OLG conducts and manages. It speaks to the range of players’ risk profiles, and targets the right education and resources to the right players at the right time. For more information, please visit PlaySmart.ca.

PlaySmart, our new gambling education and player support program, is evidence-informed and designed to help keep gambling fun for everyone.

* Total payroll comprises employee salaries, including amounts paid to government institutions (such as employee taxes, levies and employment insurance funds) on behalf of employees. Non-employees working in an operational role are normally not included here but rather under operating costs as a service purchased. Total benefits include regular contributions (such as to pensions, insurance, company vehicles and private health). They do not include training or other cost items directly related to the employee’s job function. All sites (including Resort Casinos, but excluding the sites turned over to the private sector service provider on January 11, 2016) are represented in this total.

Our contributions to local economies through host community and lottery retailer payments and purchases of local goods and services totaled $654.6 million in fiscal 2015–16.
As a government agency, OLG is expected to fulfill its mandate, including social responsibility reflecting the priorities of the people of Ontario.

This means taking into account the social and environmental impacts of our activities, which are often identified by our stakeholders – employees, players, government agencies, business partners, Responsible Gambling (RG) organizations, treatment providers, researchers, communities and the public. We continuously monitor stakeholder expectations and undertake a wide range of initiatives to meet them.
Our Core Values

OLG’s corporate mission, vision, guiding principles and values express what is truly important to us as an organization.

Our mission is to generate revenue for the Province; stimulate and enhance economic development; and promote high standards of responsible gambling – all in the best interest of the Province of Ontario.

Respect
We work to earn and maintain the respect of our colleagues, our customers and our shareholder. We seek diversity among people, their ideas and points of view.

Integrity
We believe in doing the right thing. We do what we say and live up to high standards of fairness and ethical behaviour.

Stewardship
We are responsible stewards in our work and communities. We set high standards and are accountable for acting in the best interests of our customers and managing our resources in a manner that brings maximum benefit to the people of Ontario.

Excellence
We take pride in being recognized as industry experts. We commit to continuous improvement, innovation and excellence in performance.
Governance

OLG is an operational enterprise agency of the Province of Ontario. We were created by the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation Act, 1999 (“the Act”), and we are subject to a number of statutes, including the Gaming Control Act, 1992.

The Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO) is the government agency that regulates lottery and gaming in Ontario under these statutes. OLG has a single shareholder, the Government of Ontario, and reports through our Board of Directors to the Minister of Finance.

A Memorandum of Understanding sets out the framework for and clarifies the roles, relationships, mutual expectations and accountability mechanisms between the Minister of Finance and the Corporation, as required by the Management Board of Cabinet Agencies and Appointments Directive.

The President and CEO reports to the Board of Directors and is accountable for OLG’s day-to-day operations, including our CSR efforts. The President and CEO works with the Executive Committee to fulfill the responsibilities of the position.

The Board of Directors oversees the overall management of the affairs of the Corporation in accordance with its objectives as set out in the Act, the Corporation’s by-laws, the approved business plan and the Memorandum of Understanding between the Corporation and the Minister of Finance. The board’s mandate is to direct Management’s focus to optimizing the Corporation’s overall performance and increasing shareholder value by executing its various responsibilities, which include:

- establishing a well-defined strategic planning process and setting strategic direction
- approving the annual business plan as well as operating and capital budgets
- defining and assessing business risks
- reviewing the adequacy and effectiveness of internal controls in managing risks
- appraising the performance of the President and Chief Executive Officer
- overseeing a code of conduct to ensure the highest standards in dealing with customers, suppliers and staff, with due regard to ethical values and the interests of the community at large in all corporate endeavours
- tracking the overall performance of the Corporation
- remaining informed and providing input, as required, on communications with the Government of Ontario and stakeholders
- ensuring compliance with key policies, laws and regulations

THE BOARD OPERATES THROUGH THREE WORKING COMMITTEES:

- Governance and Human Resources Committee
- Audit and Risk Management Committee
- Social Responsibility Committee

Members of the board are appointed by Ontario’s Lieutenant Governor in Council. Neither the Chair nor members of the board are full-time, nor are they members of Management.

The Hon. Senator Frances Lankin, Chair of the Social Responsibility Committee of OLG’s Board of Directors, speaks about the evolution of social responsibility at OLG.

WHAT DRIVES OLG’S STRONG COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY?

The organization initially developed a commitment because of its status as a Crown corporation. Over the years, this commitment has been baked into the organization’s DNA so that now it’s just the way we do business.

HOW DOES OLG’S BOARD OF DIRECTORS DEMONSTRATE ITS COMMITMENT?

To start, we ask a lot of questions about how issues are being managed to ensure that the organization is doing what’s right and that staff have the support they need. These conversations occur both in Social Responsibility Committee meetings and with the entire board. As topics are probed, new opportunities are identified and subsequently explored. For instance, we’ve begun setting up an impact evaluation system to measure the social impact of our programs. We know from research that OLG is adopting strong and emerging practices, but we want to know if these practices are really making a difference in people’s lives.

In fiscal 2015–16, we also started inviting external stakeholders to speak at our committee meetings to give us insight into the work they’re doing in the community and how they view OLG’s efforts. These discussions equip us to ask more informed questions of our executive team.

HOW IS SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY EVOLVING AT OLG?

Modernization is changing our relationships with communities, so that we’re now working with new operating partners to address local needs. It’s also enabled capital investment in gaming facilities where we’re also demonstrating our commitment to minimizing our environmental footprint.

The greatest evolution, however, has been in the area of Responsible Gambling (RG). The organization has developed an in-depth understanding of the issues and an incredibly sophisticated approach to addressing them. This sophistication comes from strong relationships with community partners like the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH); CAMH has worked with us on staff training and research. Today, people across our organization contribute to how we deliver RG.

We’ve also seen an evolution in the way we talk about RG through the PlaySmart communications platform, which is much more positive, engaging and relevant to all players, and in the types of interventions that are being built directly into gaming systems. This past year, we introduced RG pay-for-performance targets, so that employees at all levels are evaluated and rewarded for their contributions in this area. It’s an indication of how far OLG has come in terms of its confidence in its programs. We’re not just talking the talk – we’re also walking the walk.

“OLG’s commitment to social responsibility has been baked into the organization’s DNA so that now it’s just the way we do business.”

– FRANCES LANKIN, PC, CM
Engagement

Engaging stakeholders and communities and acting on what matters to them is an integral part of our approach to Social Responsibility. Beyond simply looking to manage risks and expectations, we try to get to the heart of issues and partner with stakeholders to tackle difficult topics.

External stakeholders interviewed during the preparation of this year’s report included representatives from the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario, the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health, the Responsible Gambling Council, Carleton University, Great Canadian Gaming Corporation and WWF-Canada.

Here we shine the spotlight on three stakeholder and community groups.

INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES

OLG values its relationships with Indigenous communities in Ontario, including our two First Nations host communities: Mississaugas of Scugog Island and Chippewas of Rama. Under a funding arrangement among OLG, the Province of Ontario and Ontario First Nations, we distribute 1.7 per cent of total gross revenue to the Ontario First Nations (2008) Limited Partnership. These funds are used for health and education, as well as community, economic and cultural development.

We’re actively involved with a number of Indigenous groups that make up the Ontario Aboriginal Responsible Gambling Program, which is funded by the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care to implement problem gambling prevention activities. We also regularly make RG presentations to Indigenous community members and support service providers at networking events, annual training sessions and other forums. In addition, OLG is one of several groups, including the Métis Nation of Ontario and other Indigenous communities in Kenora, that are joining forces to prepare for gambling expansion in the region. Learn more on page 19.

As part of modernization, prospective gaming site service providers report on their experience and working relationships with Indigenous communities. Pre-qualified proponents are also required to provide information about how they plan to engage and support Indigenous communities.

CREDIT CANADA DEBT SOLUTIONS

Recognizing that problem gambling can place financial strain on some individuals and their families, we partner with Credit Canada Debt Solutions (CCDS) to expand the reach of responsible and problem gambling information to the credit counselling area. We promote CCDS services at our sites and in our communications.

In fiscal 2015–16, we collaborated with the Problem Gambling Institute of Ontario to provide problem gambling training to CCDS credit counsellors. We also partnered with CCDS on research to understand gambling behaviours among credit counselling clients.

Starting Right, NOW

With the prospect of a new casino being built in Kenora, OLG is supporting the Problem Gambling Institute of Ontario at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (PGIO-CAMH) in an innovative initiative to prepare for and build community capacity to manage the risks associated with gambling expansion.

The Northwestern Ontario Wellness Gambling Response Program (known as the NOW Program) includes three integrated components: problem gambling prevention; social service development and training in problem gambling treatment; and a comprehensive research program that will start with a baseline needs assessment.

To launch the program, PGIO-CAMH organized a daylong workshop with local stakeholders who identified opportunities to build capacity within the region and provided input to advance research and develop prevention and treatment programming. Approximately 20 people participated from local and indigenous mental health and addictions programs, Aboriginal Friendship Centres, northern courts, the Ontario Provincial Police, Métis Nation of Ontario, Waashkootsi Nanaandawe’iyewigamig Healing Lodge and Lake of the Woods District Hospital.

PGIO-CAMH and OLG made a joint presentation to a full public meeting of the Kenora City Council, updating them on the progress of OLG’s RG program and discussing the NOW Program. “City councillors were receptive and stated that they view the programs as crucial for supporting their community,” confirmed Janine Robinson, a member of the PGIO-CAMH leadership team and overall lead of the NOW Program.

“This is a truly unique program in that it’s anticipating what could be the potential impacts of a new casino, based on vulnerabilities that characterize that region, and looking at what can be done in advance to make sure that the community is prepared.”

– DR. LENA QUILTY, INDEPENDENT SCIENTIST AT CAMH AND RESEARCH LEAD OF THE NOW PROGRAM
Our Priorities

Our CSR reporting focuses on the topics that reflect our most significant economic, social and environmental impacts and are of greatest interest to the people of Ontario, as identified through stakeholder consultation and our own governance, risk management and business processes.

Each year, we conduct an analysis of our priorities to ensure that we have an up-to-date understanding of the issues. In 2016, we retained a third party to review the previous year’s analysis and confirm this year’s topics through an online survey and a series of interviews and meetings with internal and external stakeholders. See Identifying Our Material Topics for details on our approach. As a result, these nine priority topics, presented under five pillars, are the focus of this year’s CSR report:

BUILDING PUBLIC TRUST
- Employee and supplier integrity
- Transparency and disclosure
  - NEW: Ethics and compliance
  - REVISED: Changes reflect the signing of the casino operating and services agreement with Ontario Gaming East Limited Partnership. OLG has new compliance and monitoring requirements which increase the importance of this topic.

ADDRESSING SOCIAL IMPACTS
- Encouraging positive play
- Mitigating harm

LEARN MORE: OLG’S STRATEGIC DIRECTION AND TOP RISKS ARE PRESENTED IN OLG’S 2016–17 BUSINESS PLAN
Public trust and confidence in OLG and our products and services are essential for our ongoing success and ability to deliver benefits to the province.

We must continually work to educate people about gambling and take away some of the mystery that surrounds it. We also need to show the people of Ontario that we’re acting in their best interest and doing everything possible to run our operations openly and honestly, protect players’ confidential information, and ensure the integrity of our games.
Our Approach to Building Public Trust

OLG operates within a rigorous regulatory framework that enforces legislation governing gambling, privacy, sales to minors, anti-money laundering and more. Our compliance team manages regulatory issues and ensures that appropriate policies and controls are in place. The team reports to the Audit and Risk Management Committee of the Board of Directors.

We need to do more than simply follow the rules to maintain the trust and confidence of stakeholders. Our corporate values and the structure of our policies, programs and procedures are designed to promote a culture of integrity and ethical behaviour where every employee knows the right thing to do in every situation and acts accordingly.

If employees suspect unethical, fraudulent or illegal activity, they are encouraged to speak to their managers and/or human resources representatives about it. If they prefer, they can also contact the Integrity Matters hotline, an independent and anonymous reporting service.

Key Initiatives to Build Public Trust

COMPLIANCE OVERSIGHT

It was a productive year for OLG’s corporate compliance team. In addition to implementing a new compliance program for service providers taking over day-to-day operations of gaming sites, the team prepared for implementation of the AGCO Registrar’s Standards for Gaming that took effect in September 2016.

OLG has a responsibility to ensure that service providers comply with certain legislative requirements. In 2015–16, the compliance team collaborated with our newest service provider, Ontario Gaming East Limited Partnership, the company that took over day-to-day operations at Thousand Islands Casino and Slots at Kawartha Downs, to build on the culture of compliance at the sites it was taking over, focusing on core areas such as anti-money laundering and the requirements of the Gaming Control Act, 1992.

The team also created a new enterprise compliance framework to monitor OLG and service provider compliance with regulatory obligations and also to address potential problems before they occur.

Going forward, the compliance team will be responsible for collecting and analyzing compliance-related data from all operators and reporting to OLG’s senior management and Board of Directors on the state of compliance.

PLEDGE TO DO WHAT’S RIGHT

We expect our employees to act openly, fairly and ethically, with a predisposition to doing what's right in every situation. These expectations are spelled out in OLG’s Code of Business Conduct. Employees are trained to follow the Code and must sign an annual statement acknowledging that they have read and understand the terms and conditions. To promote ongoing awareness and reinforce the importance of integrity, we’ve dedicated a page on our intranet to the Code where we post videos explaining key concepts.

In fiscal 2015–16, we introduced a new RG Code of Conduct for employees of OLG and service providers whereby employees commit to upholding our RG standards. The RG Code spells out expectations for compliance with regulatory and OLG policy requirements, marketing, RG training, customer assistance and education, and employee support of research and continuous improvement initiatives.

Data security is a top priority and we take our responsibility to protect customers’ personal information very seriously. We comply with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and embed comprehensive safeguards into our games and systems. Should a breach occur, our staff follows detailed privacy breach management procedures, recognizing the seriousness of the issue.

Like OLG employees, service providers’ employees are also committed to delivering excellent customer service and encouraging positive play.
Enchancing Our Social Value

To build public trust and evolve our business, we need a solid understanding of how people view our organization and our industry in general. For the past several years, we've tracked public perception of OLG by polling a random sample of 400 Ontario adults each month. The results shape our marketing and communications strategies.

New challenges call for new thinking. That’s why in fiscal 2015–16 we commissioned additional market research that compared people’s perceptions of the risks of alcohol, marijuana and gambling and how well the respective industries managed these risks. We wanted to see if lessons could be learned from other sectors and the findings would help us communicate more effectively to employees, players and the public.

Among the learnings:

- Alcohol is perceived to be well regulated and most people know the “rules” or social expectations about how to manage alcohol consumption. People are comfortable with alcohol because of the clearly understood set of rules that govern it.

- Gambling is not well understood or well known, possibly because of the relatively short time it has been legal in Ontario and its portrayal in popular culture.

“While change will take time, the research pointed to actions we can take right away to improve OLG’s perception and reputation,” says Greg McKenzie, OLG’s Chief Operating Officer. “For example, we need to communicate the many different things we’re doing to promote PlaySmart, our approach to Responsible Gambling. We have employee training that’s acknowledged as the best in the world, RG Resource Centres, RG champions at gaming sites and much more. The research suggested that bringing RG to the fore would make customers more likely to play, reduce the stigma attached to problem gambling and dispel certain gambling myths.”

Elements of our plan for enhancing social value include:

- clarifying the relationship between gaming site employees and players, so that staff understand and accept the function our RG people perform in helping players manage their behaviours and get support when needed

- integrating PlaySmart, our new gambling education and support platform, into customer service across all business areas and service providers

“We have employee training that’s acknowledged as the best in the world, RG Resource Centres, RG champions at gaming sites and much more.”

– GREG MCKENZIE, CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER
OLG is in the entertainment business, and we want players to play smart and have fun.

PlaySmart, our new gambling education and player support program, is designed to help keep gambling fun for everyone. It is OLG’s own approach to Responsible Gambling, which is all about helping players – new and seasoned – build gambling knowledge, understand risks, gain insight into personal behaviour, plan their experience, build positive play habits, and know how to obtain help if needed.

OLG’s Responsible Gambling Program was recognized by the World Lottery Association as the Best Overall Responsible Gambling Program in the world in 2014.

14 Training Modules used in our RG training programs for our various lines of business to help employees address the warning signs of problem gambling.

2.3 million views of PlaySmart videos on YouTube since February 2016.
Our Approach to Addressing Social Impacts

OLG's program is evidence-informed and designed and delivered in collaboration with multiple agencies, including the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH), the Responsible Gambling Council (RGC), Gambling Research Exchange Ontario (GREO) and Credit Canada Debt Solutions.

We use annual employee and customer RG surveys as well as customer-tracking tools to assess RG programming effectiveness and drive improvements. All employees have RG pay-for-performance targets.

In 2016, we reframed our program in line with our latest RG research and insights. Determined to make a step change in program effectiveness, we launched PlaySmart which is a radically different approach to gambling education and player support. PlaySmart aims to break through the clutter and speak to the full range of player risk profiles, targeting the right education and help resources to the right players at the right time. See “OLG Wants You to PlaySmart” on page 30 to learn more.

As we shift certain day-to-day operations of slots and casinos to private sector service providers, OLG will be responsible for ensuring that these operators uphold our RG standards in customer support and employee engagement. In addition to mandating compliance with AGCO regulations, operating agreements have detailed RG terms, including required third-party accreditations with RG Check for gaming, the establishment of Responsible Gaming Resource Centres and the delivery of OLG-developed RG employee training programs.

ENCOURAGING POSITIVE PLAY

Encouraging positive play is aimed at preventing problem gambling by giving players facts, tools and advice to make informed decisions about their gambling before risky playing habits have a chance to take shape.

Employees play an essential role in informing, educating and supporting players. All customer-facing employees undergo role-specific RG training. Developed in collaboration with CAMH, the training teaches them how to deliver gambling information and assist players exhibiting behaviours that indicate problem gambling. In addition to training, we work to build an organizational culture that facilitates employees’ efforts to encourage positive play and supports players. For example, each gaming site has its own grassroots team that plans, promotes and delivers RG program initiatives.

Responsible Gaming Resource Centres (RGRCs) at gaming sites and Charitable Gaming Centres are also key customer touch points. Operated by RGC, the RGRC program is a comprehensive network of centres, including eight that are staffed, that offer interactive and engaging programming and events.

MITIGATING HARM

In addition to training employees to recognize and respond effectively to players who are demonstrating signs of problem gambling behaviours, we collaborate with multiple stakeholders to increase the relevance and effectiveness of our response. In some instances, we direct players to the RGRCs and the Ontario Problem Gambling Helpline, which, in turn, connect them to local treatment providers, debt counsellors and other support services. At other times, we provide direct support through our voluntary Self-Exclusion program.

Illustrating the odds of winning in new and tangible ways is one of the ways that PlaySmart engages players.

Key Initiatives to Address Social Impacts

BREAKING NEW GROUND

We need to be innovative to make a difference in how people gamble. The key is to normalize RG so that players see it as part of the gambling experience rather than as a response to a negative experience. In addition to specific messaging, the new PlaySmart program leverages the latest technology to help players manage their gambling behaviours. For example:

- PlayOLG, our Internet gaming site, has built-in play management tools that require players to set mandatory weekly deposit limits and that let them set voluntary session time limits, loss limits for casino games and lottery purchase limits. Play stops when they reach their limits. Data analytics give players a risk rating and recommendations to help them understand and control their gambling habits.

- My PlaySmart is a personal tracking tool being piloted at OLG Slots at Georgian Downs. Embedded into the slot machines, the tool helps people manage their play by setting daily thresholds for the amount of time and/or money they intend to spend.

PROBING QUESTIONS

Impartial research is essential to inform our RG program and evaluate its effectiveness. We have a Memorandum of Understanding with Gambling Research Exchange Ontario (GREO) to help procure and manage research that OLG commissions with independent academics and other stakeholders. Among current projects:

- A study by Carleton University’s Michael Wohl and Chris Davis is aimed at finding out how accurate players are in assessing their play behaviour and whether realistic feedback about the amount of money won or lost would affect subsequent play.

- We’re developing tools in collaboration with GREO and researchers from the University of Waterloo to help players understand and determine their preferred slot machines based on their individual play styles.

- We’ve started consultations on a program that will give qualified researchers access to OLG’s internal RG-related anonymous data for external analysis, while ensuring player privacy protection. The program will provide us with additional data analytics and advance knowledge in the RG and problem gambling research fields.

HELPING OTHERS HELP THEMSELVES

Self-Exclusion is a self-help program we offer to people who want to control or stop their gambling. It’s a commitment to stay away from gaming sites, PlayOLG and, as of fiscal 2015–16, all Charitable Gaming Centres for a specified time period. We recently strengthened the program, and it now requires that returning players complete an online reinstatement tutorial. Developed with CAMH, the tutorial provides them with tools and information about the games and resources to consult if they have concerns about their gambling.

“OLG needs to help all players develop positive play habits, keep gambling fun and get assistance if they need it. We recognize the risks of gambling, and from a business perspective, we must ensure that players are not burning out and that their experience with us is positive.”

Case Study
OLG Wants You to PlaySmart

In February 2016, OLG launched PlaySmart, our new gambling education and player support program, designed to take away the mysteries, not the thrills, of gambling.

While OLG’s objectives to prevent and mitigate problem gambling remain unchanged, PlaySmart speaks to all players in new, engaging ways and transforms information they “need” into something they “want”. The suite of innovative resources being rolled out over the next two years includes:

- PlaySmart – an online resource providing Ontarians with comprehensive gambling education about how games work
- My PlaySmart budgeting tools – slots outfitted with technology that allows players to set spending and time thresholds on their play
- ATM messaging – digital and decal messages at gaming sites updated with useful tips from Credit Canada Debt Solutions to encourage players to learn about their gambling spend
- educational print and digital messages using all touch points, including web, mobile devices and physical spaces in the gaming environment
- PlaySmart Centres (currently branded as Responsible Gaming Resource Centres) – in all slots, casinos and Charitable Gaming locations

"PlaySmart builds on OLG’s years of experience developing and managing RG programs. We found that the term ‘Responsible Gambling’ was considered to be synonymous with ‘problem gambling’ and undermined our attempts to educate gamblers. Many players told us they ignored ‘RG’ messages because they viewed them as irrelevant. However, they were curious about how games work and their own gambling behaviour."

PRIORITY TOPIC IN THIS SECTION:
ENGAGING AND TRAINING OUR PEOPLE

OLG’s workforce and staffing needs are changing. Some OLG gaming employees are transferring to service providers and new roles are being created to manage service provider relationships, contracts and performance.

It’s a testament to the quality of our people that the transitions are proceeding smoothly, and we continue to meet our financial targets, regulatory requirements and social commitments. We know that our employees are an integral part of OLG’s success. We do our best to ensure that they’re engaged, supported and rewarded for their contributions.
Our Approach to Supporting Employees

OLG is committed to being a place where people want to work – one that attracts and retains employees from many different walks of life. As we modernize, we’re also focused on evolving our culture and aligning our policies and programs to meet the future needs of our business and our knowledge-based workforce. We do so from a strong foundation:

- Our long-standing corporate values and Code of Business Conduct set out the basic expectations for all OLG employees and create the conditions for them to flourish. All individuals are to be treated with respect and dignity. Diversity and inclusion are viewed as essential elements of our culture.
- Given the diversity of our business, we can offer employees a variety of opportunities to learn, grow and take the next steps in their careers. In addition to participating in mandatory training related to health and safety, Responsible Gambling and relevant compliance topics, employees can develop their skills through on-the-job learning, secondments, project assignments, mentoring, job shadowing and a wide selection of formal learning and development programs.
- Workplace health and safety is a top priority, and we encourage all employees to work together to ensure that every one of them goes home safely at the end of each day. Our Occupational Health and Safety Policy outlines expectations.

Future Ready Network ambassadors provide feedback to OLG leadership on the pulse of the organization.

“Supporting and treating employees fairly is a key tenet of our modernization. From the outset, we’ve given our employees multiple opportunities to ask questions and stay informed.”

– LARRY ROURKE, SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, HUMAN RESOURCES

MANAGING CHANGE

From the start of OLG’s modernization, we scaled up employee communications and change management support. Here are three of the initiatives put in place to address questions and concerns while maintaining day-to-day business:

- Future Ready Network – More than 350 employees act as ambassadors and provide feedback to OLG leadership on the pulse of the organization. Ambassadors invite employee input and report common themes to leadership monthly – but on a daily basis after major organizational announcements.
- Connect Sessions – These are opportunities for small groups of employees to meet with an OLG executive to ask questions and share their thoughts. Session dates are announced in advance, and employees register on a first come, first served basis.
- Modernization Update Sessions for People Managers – These half-day sessions are led by senior executives and are intended to give managers updates on modernization and what lies ahead. Managers are then expected to share the information with their teams.

Employee engagement is tracked through standard human resources metrics like turnover, absenteeism and training take-up rates, as well as mechanisms such as the Future Ready Network.
Key Initiatives to Support Employees

CELEBRATING OUR DIVERSITY

OLG recognizes the benefits of diversity across the organization and seeks to create a welcoming environment where employees feel free to be themselves and share their unique perspectives and skills.

We support various events that celebrate difference and build inclusion, including local cultural events like Pride parades. Our participation in and the importance of these events are communicated to our employees.

Gender balance on our Board of Directors is a priority and women make up more than 40 per cent of the current board. In October 2015, our Diversity and Inclusion Committee invited employees to participate in a Women’s Leadership Panel featuring senior leaders and the Hon. Frances Lankin, one of our board members. The discussion focused on encouraging women to reach their potential.

In late 2015, OLG’s Executive Committee approved the hiring of a Diversity and Inclusion Lead to work closely with the Diversity and Inclusion Committee to foster and promote diversity and inclusion.

“It has been great to see OLG employees embrace opportunities to demonstrate their commitment to diversity and inclusion. The hiring of a Diversity and Inclusion Lead enables us to further develop programs and initiatives and embed diversity and inclusion throughout the organization.”

– LESLEY BYRNE, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, STRATEGIC COMMUNICATIONS, AND DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION CHAIR

CAREER ENCOURAGEMENT

To help OLG employees make career decisions and achieve their goals, we created a web-based portal, CareerCapital, which gives employees 24/7 access to career exploration tools and assessments. In the first year, more than 800 employees requested access to the portal to conduct personal assessments and develop personalized career action plans. CareerCapital includes a separate leader portal to help people managers engage in effective career-development conversations with their employees.

In a recent survey, 83 per cent of respondents indicated that they would recommend CareerCapital to others.

OUR EMPLOYEES GIVE BACK

For more than 30 years, OLG employees have taken the lead in developing and organizing the annual Federated Health and United Way charity campaigns. At each of our sites across the province, employee volunteer teams raise funds to help their local communities. In fiscal 2015–16, employees raised more than $371,000 for Federated Health Charities and more than $345,000 for United Way. In the last four years alone, our employees have contributed over $2.8 million to these two charities, which directly benefits the people of Ontario.

Modernization Gets Personal

The transition of OLG Slots at Kawartha Downs and OLG Casino Thousand Islands to Ontario Gaming East Limited Partnership (OGELP) directly affected the 515 employees at these locations. As part of the agreement, these employees were guaranteed 12 months' employment in their current positions and geographic locations and at the same pay rate. OGELP was also required to provide a registered pension plan and benefits similar to their existing coverage.

With input from OGELP, we created a change management plan covering the period from the announcement of the selected service provider in September to the January transition date. Initiatives included:

- Future Ready Networks (FRNs) at the affected gaming sites, with ambassadors trained in change management; OGELP met with FRNs on two occasions prior to the transition date to gather employee input on a variety of topics including new uniforms
- weekly transition updates, monthly calendars and all-employee meetings for affected gaming sites
- people transition packs that included an overview of the transition process and site transition team, frequently asked questions and answers, a list of resources and an OGELP backgrounder
- opportunities for site general managers and department managers to meet with an outside specialist to prepare personal profiles highlighting their skills, experience and abilities

Closer to the transition date, OLG and OGELP human resources representatives hand delivered packages containing OLG termination and OGELP offer letters to non-unionized employees who were not automatically transferring to the service provider under successor rights. These employees were given the option of moving to OGELP or taking an OLG severance package.

“A shared commitment to collaboration and communication between OLG and OGELP carried through the transition period and enabled a seamless transfer,” advised John MacFarlane. “Approximately 90 per cent of non-unionized employees chose to transfer to OGELP. The majority of people who participated in an anonymous survey four weeks after the transition date told us that they felt supported and saw value in the tools and resources provided to them.”

While many things would remain the same at their workplace, these employees were being asked to switch employers. Naturally, they had a lot of questions and concerns. We understood that and prioritized change management and employee transition activities in the gaming site transition road map.”

– JOHN MACFARLANE, VICE PRESIDENT, GAMING
OLG exists to benefit the communities of Ontario. We are the Government of Ontario’s largest source of non-tax revenue, and the funds we generate are used to support provincial priorities, including hospitals, culture, amateur sports and more.

In addition to providing funding, we create local jobs, purchase local goods and services, increase revenue for lottery retailers and support community projects and events. OLG gaming sites and Charitable Gaming Centres are also popular spots for a night out on the town, offering fun and excitement for local residents and tourists alike.

$141.2 million in payments were made to municipalities and Ontario First Nations that hosted gaming facilities and Charitable Gaming Centres.

$115 million raised by Charitable Gaming Centres over the past 10 years went directly to participating local charities and not-for-profit organizations.

$2.5 million was spent to sponsor community festivals and events.
Our Approach to Strengthening Communities

OLG strives to be a positive force in the communities that host its gaming sites, Charitable Gaming Centres and other operations and works with these communities to help them thrive.

We formally track public perception of OLG and its performance through brand health and reputation surveys. Each month, we survey a random sample of 400 Ontario adults by telephone. We’ve also initiated an economic benefit assessment to better understand the impact of our financial contributions on host communities.

SLOTS, CASINOS AND RESORTS

OLG community relations leaders meet at least twice a year with members of each of the 22 municipalities and two First Nations communities that host slots and casinos to share plans, discuss issues and collaborate on community priorities. As modernization progresses, our new service providers are also involved in these conversations.

OLG pays a portion of revenue earned at the local gaming sites to the respective host communities according to a formula specified in the Municipality Contribution Agreement (MCA). We make payments to the Mississaugas of Scugog Island First Nation and Chippewas of Rama First Nation under separate contracts.

Host communities submit annual reports summarizing how their MCA funds were used. The major categories of expenditures are as follows:

- capital infrastructure (e.g., fire trucks, roads, bridges, municipal buildings and community centres)
- economic and tourist development (e.g., brochures, billboards and Business Improvement Area initiatives)
- charitable contributions (e.g., local charity donations and events)
- parks and recreation (e.g., building/upgrading local parks, bike paths and trails)
- other (e.g., general revenues)

CHARITABLE GAMING

Our Charitable Gaming business is a unique partnership comprising public, private and charitable/non-profit sectors. There were 31 Charitable Gaming Centres at the end of the fiscal year, each centre operated by a private service provider. Each centre’s charity association and service provider receives a commission based on percentages of net win, adjusted net win or non-gaming revenue. To receive the funding, eligible charities need to be actively involved in the operation of their centres and must show how the funds raised support the good works they carry out in their community.

CORPORATE SPONSORSHIPS AND SUPPORT

OLG sponsors local festivals and events across Ontario. In addition, $10 million in annual proceeds from our Quest for Gold lottery are administered by the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport to provide Ontario’s amateur athletes with financial assistance, enhanced coaching and training and competitive opportunities.
Key Initiatives to Strengthen Communities

NEW BEGINNINGS

Our relationships with municipalities that host our slots and casinos are changing as we begin to shift day-to-day site operations to service providers. Prior to finalizing the agreement with OGELP in January 2016, both OLG and OGELP engaged in discussions with the local municipalities to ensure a seamless transition.

Under the agreement with OGELP, OLG continues to distribute MCA payments, and we’re involved in all decisions related to relocating gaming sites or building new ones. A new gaming site can be constructed only when there is municipal consent, a viable business case put forward by the service provider and approval by both OLG and the Government of Ontario.

$115 MILLION TO CHARITY

In February 2016, our Charitable Gaming Centres celebrated a major milestone: More than $115 million was raised for approximately 1,800 charities and not-for-profit organizations over the last 10 years. This accomplishment is a tribute to the tremendous work that’s been done – in partnership with local municipalities, the Ontario Charitable Gaming Association and the Commercial Gaming Association of Ontario – to invigorate the traditional bingo experience and generate more money for local charities. Here are two of the organizations that benefited in the past year:

- Northwestern Ontario Air Search and Rescue Association, a professionally trained volunteer group in Thunder Bay, that conducts aerial searches for downed aircraft, missing or in-distress watercraft as well as missing or lost people
- Talbot Teen Centre, a safe and positive space for youth in St. Thomas that provides age-appropriate programs in recreation, leadership, education, arts and culture and volunteering

OLG was a Presenting Partner of the Pan Am/Parapan Am Games and a Presenting Partner of the Torch Relay. Our sponsorship included:

- the All for Here Challenge, in which attendees of Torch Relay celebrations in 29 communities donned authentic sports equipment and engaged in competitive kayaking, cycling and Torch Relay simulations; the activity attracted 21,845 participants
- the All for Community Challenge, which highlighted OLG’s service to Ontario’s communities; three local teams competed against each other in on-stage map challenges to identify stops along the Torch Relay route; the activity was held in 28 communities, raising $165,000 for 44 local Charitable Gaming partner charities

TORONTO 2015 PAN AM/PARAPAN AM GAMES SPONSORSHIP A BIG HIT

The Toronto 2015 Pan Am/Parapan Am Games and the Torch Relay leading up to the games were times of celebration in Ontario. The Torch Relay, which travelled through more than 130 communities over 41 days, put the spotlight on many of the public facilities that OLG funding helped build and on the amateur athletes our proceeds help support.

More than $115 million was raised for approximately 1,800 charities and not-for-profit organizations over the last 10 years.

On January 11, 2016, OGELP (a 90.5 per cent–owned subsidiary of Great Canadian Gaming Corporation) became the first private sector casino owner and operator in OLG’s modernization program. The company took over day-to-day operations of what are now Shorelines Casino Thousand Islands (formerly OLG Casino Thousand Islands) and Shorelines Slots at Kawartha Downs (formerly OLG Slots at Kawartha Downs) under a 20-year casino operating and services agreement.

The selection of OGELP followed a robust procurement process to ensure that we had a reputable service provider with a proven track record who was accustomed to operating under similar contracts and to engaging with local communities.

Here are some key facts about the Great Canadian Gaming Corporation:

- founded in 1982 in British Columbia
- operates 21 entertainment destinations in British Columbia, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Washington State, including casinos, racetracks with slot machines, community gaming centres, show theatres, a bingo hall, a four-diamond casino resort, a four-star hotel and conference centre space
- employs almost 6,000 people
- operates horse racing at OLG’s Flamboro Downs and Georgian Downs properties (since 2005)
- invests over $2.5 million annually in communities where it operates and supports over 3,600 charitable organizations

“We have a strong commitment to social responsibility in each of the communities where we operate. We look forward to continuing all the good work on Responsible Gambling and environmental stewardship that OLG has been doing and we’re eager to get involved in local activities. There are a lot of learnings that come from these interactions that can help our business and our communities.”

– SONJA MANDIC, DIRECTOR, MEDIA RELATIONS AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY, GREAT CANADIAN GAMING CORPORATION
Without concerted action, threats like climate change and pollution will have a critical impact on the way we all live – adversely affecting ecosystems, economies and communities around the world. As we see it, if we’re serious about making Ontario better, we need to do our part to minimize our environmental footprint.

We take action on our own and in partnership with others to reduce the environmental impacts of our operations and our products and services. We also try to promote sustainability concepts and engage suppliers, communities and individuals in environmental initiatives as a way of driving change on a broader scale.
Our Approach to Reducing Our Footprint

Our flagship environmental program, Bet on Green, has three main objectives:

- reduce the environmental impact of OLG operations by reducing the amount of energy, water, paper and other materials used, as well as reducing waste going to landfill
- become a global leader in energy-efficient gaming
- increase environmental awareness among customers and employees

OLG’s Social Responsibility team carries out select industry-wide environmental initiatives aimed at achieving our objectives, while site-led green teams work to bring Bet on Green to life at each site and in each community we serve.

ENERGY CONSERVATION

Energy conservation is aimed at reducing the amount of energy used by our sites. We follow the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers’ Level II energy audit standards to identify reduction opportunities. Typical initiatives include installing variable frequency drives on air handling units; recommissioning heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) systems to optimize their energy efficiency; and replacing fluorescent and incandescent lights with LED lights. Increasingly, we’re using energy usage data to uncover opportunities for incremental improvements such as using timed thermostats to heat outside patios or using outside air for natural cooling of building interiors.

Green energy from Bullfrog Power is used to power PlayOLG, the PlaySmart website, OLG Casino Brantford and OLG’s entire network of digital signs. Sixty per cent of the electricity used at OLG Slots at Georgian Downs is also derived from green energy. By these initiatives alone, we shrink our carbon footprint by more than 3,400 tonnes of carbon equivalent each year and reduce the emissions of other harmful pollutants that contribute to poor air quality.

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Our resource management efforts focus on reducing paper use, generating less waste and diverting waste from landfill. We use waste audits to inform our action plans. We also participate in waste reduction and waste diversion programs run by TerraCycle for small non-recyclable or hard-to-recycle items, Ontario Electronic Stewardship for electronic waste and OfficeMax Grand & Toy for paper and printer supplies.

Most of the paper used by OLG is for lottery tickets. We’re continually looking for ways to reduce this amount – for example, we maximize the use of printable areas while continuing to print messages needed for Responsible Gambling and regulatory requirements. Our efforts since fiscal 2009 have resulted in a 25 per cent reduction in lottery ticket sizes.

“Our employees are the lifeblood of our environmental program. This past year, we launched a program that formally recognizes their commitment and links their efforts to their professional development.”

Key Initiatives to Reduce Our Footprint

OLG CASINO BRANTFORD SHINES

In August 2015, OLG Casino Brantford achieved Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED®) Silver level certification by meeting stringent green building standards.

The achievement was possible thanks to renovations to the casino that resulted in a 49 per cent reduction in water consumption and a three per cent reduction in energy used for lighting. Ninety per cent of all appliances in use at the casino are now ENERGY STAR rated.

What's more, three per cent of the construction materials contained recycled content and nine per cent were from rapidly renewable resources.

Additional green features include charging stations for electric vehicles, bicycle storage and change rooms with showers for employees who bike to work and a robust recycling program.

TELL IT LIKE IT IS

This past year, we commissioned a study to understand the extent to which OLG-sponsored volunteer programs like the Great Canadian Shoreline Cleanup contribute to employees’ engagement in sustainability issues. The Shoreline Cleanup is an initiative of the Vancouver Aquarium and WWF-Canada that encourages Canadians to rehabilitate shoreline areas by means of cleanups. OLG has participated in cleanups for the last seven years.

Some 640 OLG employees responded to an online survey and focused interviews were conducted with select members of our senior management team. Among the findings:

- 74 per cent of employees agreed that the Shoreline Cleanup is a good way to support Ontario communities
- 65 per cent agreed that the Shoreline Cleanup increased their awareness and understanding of environmental issues
- 83 per cent agreed that volunteer opportunities help to create a positive work environment for employees

Since 2009, OLG employees have participated in the Great Canadian Shoreline Cleanup. In 2015, our volunteers removed 1,286 kilograms of litter from waterways and shorelines across the province.

TAKING ACTION FOR NATURE

OLG has a long history with WWF-Canada that includes sponsorship of and participation in events like Earth Hour and the Great Canadian Shoreline Cleanup. We’re also a big proponent of WWF-Canada’s Living Planet @ Work Program, which provides tools and resources to support our Bet on Green program. In fiscal 2015–16, we partnered with WWF-Canada to develop our Green Leadership Certificate program. Learn more on page 45.

In 2015–16, we partnered with the Nature Conservancy of Canada (NCC) in its Conservation Volunteer Program. With our financial support, 10 events were held at ecologically significant natural areas near OLG sites. At these events, volunteers (including our own employees) joined NCC staff in tree planting, seed collection, invasive species removal, trail enhancement and species inventories.
Performance Snapshot

1,104 VOLUNTEERS PARTICIPATED in Bet on Green events.

84,420 WINNER’S CIRCLE REWARDS MEMBER CARDS were recycled.

Each figure represents approximately 25 VOLUNTEERS

15.7 METRIC TONNES of shoreline litter and electronic waste was collected.

14 TERRACYCLE BRIGADES collected 885 kilograms of previously non-recyclable waste and generated $1,900 for charity.
CASE STUDY

Three Cheers for Our Green Leaders

The Green Leadership Certificate program gives employees an opportunity to improve their understanding of sustainability concepts, gain valuable leadership tools and discover solutions that lead to change. To earn the certificate, they must complete five online learning modules and participate in two Bet on Green volunteer events.

The learning modules were co-developed by OLG and WWF-Canada. They cover topics such as communicating the financial and non-financial benefits of sustainability, leading employee engagement and implementing reduction measures for waste, water and energy. The volunteer requirements are intended to encourage employees to apply what they learn from the modules, enhance participation in the Bet on Green program and help recruit volunteers for site green teams.

Employees who complete the modules and the volunteer requirements are awarded a Green Leadership Certificate, co-signed by David Miller, President and CEO of WWF-Canada, and Greg McKenzie, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of OLG.

“We were proud to be involved in OLG’s Green Leadership Certificate program and pleased to see such strong employee participation,” said David Miller. “OLG has done a great job over the years to empower their people to take action on sustainability, and this is another leading example of how engaging employees can drive positive change for the environment.”

“Employees across OLG work hard to achieve our environmental goals,” said Greg McKenzie. “We know that managing site-led green teams builds leadership skills and environmental knowledge. The Green Leadership Certificate validates these skills and experiences. It also positions sustainability as an aspect of leadership at OLG.”

The Green Leadership Certificate program is a successful collaboration between OLG and WWF-Canada.

“Employee response to the Green Leadership Certificate program has exceeded expectations. Within the first six months, over 400 employees enrolled and started working towards a certificate.”

About This Report

This is OLG’s fourth Corporate Social Responsibility report. We are reporting in accordance with the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) G4 Guidelines “Core” option. The Guidelines are widely used around the world to help organizations report consistently and transparently on their most critical economic, environmental and social priorities, performance and impacts. A GRI Index of this report’s content is provided here, which includes sector-specific aspects developed by OLG. For more information about the guidelines, visit the GRI website.

This report covers performance for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. We include data from previous years and progress made in fiscal 2016–17, where relevant. Our most recent report was released in September 2016, covering OLG’s fiscal 2014–15 performance.

Unless otherwise indicated, the report contains economic data from all activities across our operating segments – Lottery, Charitable Gaming, Slots and Casinos, OLG Resort Casinos and Internet Gaming. All financial data are in Canadian dollars.

Environmental and workforce data are reported for OLG-operated activities only. The following are excluded from environmental and workforce data unless otherwise indicated:

- Lottery retailing (with the exception of paper used at lottery terminals)
- Charitable Gaming Centres
- OLG Resort Casinos (Caesars Windsor, Casino Rama, Casino Niagara and Niagara Fallsview Casino Resort) operated under contract by private operators
- Operations at the Great Blue Heron Casino
Identifying Our Material Topics

Each year, we conduct a materiality analysis to ensure that our understanding of internal and external topics of importance is current. In 2016, we hired a third-party firm to review our previous year’s materiality analysis and recommend changes to our CSR priorities.

This year’s process involved:

- receiving online survey responses from 28 OLG executives and subject-matter experts and 16 external stakeholders to evaluate the importance of CSR topics (linked to the GRI Aspects and Responsible Gambling Guidelines), based on the level of priority for OLG and its stakeholders; identifying topics requiring additional effort from OLG; and evaluating ways to improve CSR reporting and communications
- hosting a workshop with key OLG managers and subject-matter experts to review and assess the online survey results and OLG’s material topics
- conducting interviews with 17 OLG executives, subject-matter experts and a board member to gather feedback on recent highlights, challenges and plans and to gain further context relating to the priorities highlighted in the online survey

Here are OLG’s nine CSR priorities presented under five pillars – identified through the materiality analysis – and how they relate to Aspects from the GRI (G4) Guidelines, including sector-specific aspects developed by OLG which have guided our report content:
